Champions Of Darkness

We in the United States have conceded to the Soviet Union their accomplishment in ushering in the space era. But we insist upon reminding them and the world of their earthly sins.

Just a year ago in Hungary there began a human uprising which drew out the most bestial instincts in the Kremlin's leaders. With icy brutality the Russians shattered Hungarian bodies by the thousands as they moved in with tanks and other armored force to crush the revolt.

This was not a rebellion carried to the world by vague rumor or occasional refugee. Western newsmen reported and photographed it. Refugees by the tens of thousands poured across the Austrian border before it was finally sealed. They told the story in finely etched detail.

In the beginning the rebels seemed to be following a pattern set earlier in 1956 by the courageous Poles, who carved out for themselves greater independence within the Communist orbit.

But the Hungarians, intoxicated with the first fresh taste of liberty, struck for total liberation. Had they been able to pursue their path to its logical end, they would have cut all ties to Moscow and moved toward either neutrality or a link to the Western family of nations.

This was their undoing. The Kremlin could not tolerate defiance on so massive and complete a scale. Russian armies rushed to the centers of revolt to snuff out this flame before it should spread to other satellite lands.

Never was such inhumanity done in the name of humanity. In characteristic manner the Soviet Union dared to contend that it had been invited by the Hungarian people to put down an uprising generated by plotting foreign elements.

This time, however, the fraud was too patent to be believed by any but the most gullible folk around the globe. The truth had been too well told. And it was told again with devastating power in a United Nations report that led to a strongly worded, fully deserved condemnation of Russia for its crimes against Hungary.

We must never let peoples across the earth forget the ruthless contempt for human life which is practiced by these men who say endlessly, in painful but too often effective monotony, that they are the friends of the masses.

With the launching of the Soviet earth satellite, new fear today grips the hearts of many people in many places. If the East-West struggle came to the test of war, some would try to hold aloof in shaky neutrality rather than put in boldly with the cause of freedom. Some, too, say frankly they would accept the iron yoke of Russian occupation before they would fight in a nuclear war.

We will not argue here the wisdom of their outlook, or consider whether their fears are warranted. We will simply point to the story of Hungary as it unfolded in late 1956. There for all to see is the true meaning of communism.

With luminous clarity, Hungary showed the world that communism has no helping hand for men. It has only the cruel boot with which it stamps out every decent human aspiration which dares to rise into the light.

In a world crying to get into the light, Russia is the champion of darkness. And it has no blacker deeds recorded against it than those it committed upon the fiery spirit of the Hungarian people.

France Moons Over Politics

If a man wanted to lay a pretty good wager, he might go two to one that on that future day when some man-made rocket lands on the moon, the French will be without a government.

Science goes on exploring, pushing back the frontiers, even to outer space. Industry applies science's findings to produce new miracles and change the look of civilization.

Through it all the French political mind goes on as before, splitting hairs, balking at the compromises which are the heart of effective politics, periodically bringing the house down because someone doesn't like the way a nail is placed.

But when the moon landing is made, the French may perk up. One imagines they might like to organize the first exodus by rocket, hopeful that on the moon they would at last be free of earth and all its trials.

Queen Elizabeth Knows Who's Boss When She Goes Fishing With Hubby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That Queen Elizabeth II may be boss in Buckingham Palace, but when she goes fishing she takes her guidance from her husband, as do most wives. . . .

It was Prince Philip who converted her from trout to salmon fishing, now a favorite hobby of both.

That women buy one of every three beers sold at the Yankee Stadium.

That it was hopeful Charles Lamb who said, "not many soules in life exceed in interest a knock at the door."

That you can't pull hair out by the roots. . . . The tiny white bulb at the bottom of a length of hair, commonly thought to be the root, is no more than the base of the strand. . . . and the root keeps right on growing.

That Russia's speedy Sputnik circles the earth near 450 times as quickly as the natural moon.

That the latest joke in East

Europe concerns a Moscow factory worker who was sentenced to 10 years for shouting "Khrushchev is a drunken idiot!"

"You must serve three years for offending the first secretary," the judge told the prisoner sternly.

"And seven years for betraying a state secret."

That the figureheads on old sailing vessels were there for a practical reason. . . . to scare away sea serpents.

That no one yet has improved on ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker's definition of a reformer: "A guy who rides through a sewer in a glass-bottom boat."

That except for Death Valley, Calif., the only area in the United States below sea level is New Orleans.

That in colonial America—mid-18th Century—a population of three million consumed 12 million gallons of rum a year. They had rugged people as well as rugged winters in those days.

That two 15-year-old boys nabbed for shoplifting phonograph records in Hess Bros. Department Store in Allentown, Pa., apparently didn't read the labels. . . . the songs they picked: "You Shouldn't Do That" and "Don't Be A Fool."

That if you think television has cut down the reading of books by the younger generation, you're wrong. . . . It's picked up.

That it was Christopher Morley who observed, "If you have to keep reminding yourself of a thing, perhaps it isn't so."

NOON NAP—Normally the ornate facade of this bank on Paris' Boulevard des Italiens would only attract art lovers, but in this case something extra has been added. DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Foreman John Weisman, 49, is a lucky man four times over.

Police said ex-employee Dolphus Cox walked into the Standard Register Co. here and told Weisman, "This is for getting me fired."

Whereupon Cox, 40, took out a revolver and pulled the trigger four times.

The gun didn't go off.

Cox was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 for assault with a deadly weapon.

Missile Age Thrusts 'Thrust' Upon Capital Social Scene

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It's all a question of "thrust."

Cocktail party experts on everything from football ratings and Nicky Khrushchev's "line" to atom bombs and the Russian ballistic missiles now have to master the jargon of thrust.

It's thrust that puts rockets into the air and thrust that enabled the Russians to launch a 164-pound satellite at the edge of the atmosphere while the United States is still monkeying around on the ground with six and 22-pound jobs.

Thrust is measured in pounds of force. It isn't pounds per square inch and it isn't horsepower, either, though many people confuse the two. Thrust is lift. Anyone lifting a 10-pound weight off the floor is exerting 10 pounds of thrust.

A rocket engine used to lift a missile and a satellite consists fundamentally of a combustion chamber, fuel supply mechanisms and an exhaust nozzle.

If the nozzle has a one-square-inch throat and if the fuel burning in the combustion chamber develops pressures of 100 pounds per square inch, the thrust will be 100 pounds.

If the Rocket engine develops 100 pounds of thrust and the rocket doesn't move—that is if it doesn't lift its own weight—then no horsepower is developed.

Horsepower is force multiplied by distance divided by time. So the way the engineers figure it, 100 pounds of thrust, developing a speed of 375 miles an hour in whatever they are lifting, would represent 100 horsepower of work.

To measure thrust, engineers at scale laboratory model rockets to scales and actually "weigh" the thrust. After conducting enough experiments of this kind with different fuels, the engineer develops formulas for calculating thrust. And that's the way they measure it for the big rockets.

The Vanguard "vehicle," as they call it, which the United States is building to launch its first satellite, is a three-stage research rocket 72 feet long and 45 inches in diameter at base. Each stage has its own combustion chamber and fuel tanks.

The first stage is the Martin Viking rocket with General Electric engine. It develops 27,000 pounds of thrust. It will lift the vehicle 36 miles in about two minutes, 22 seconds, in which time it will burn up all its fuel. Then this first engine and empty fuel tank drops off to lighten the load.

The second-stage vehicle which takes over then is the Aerobee, built by Aerojet General. Its engine develops only 7,500 pounds of thrust.

When it has done its job and dropped off, the third-stage engine takes over with only 2,300 pounds of thrust.

Two engines are being built for this stage—one by Grand Central Rocket Co., the other by Allegany Ballistics. Both engines use solid fuel, instead of the liquid oxygen and kerosene of the first and second-stage engines.

The third-stage engine will provide the last half of the thrust needed to send the satellite on its way at 18,000 miles an hour, 300 miles or more above the earth's surface. This has been the average altitude at which the Russian Sputnik soared.

But The Big Thrust question which U. S. scientists and engineers would like to know is how much thrust the Russian rocket engines develop.

Since it will take 27,000 pounds of initial thrust to get the U. S. 26-inch, 22-pound satellite off the ground, it would be necessary for the Russians to have a rocket engine at least eight and a third times as powerful to lift their 164-pound moon.

This would mean an initial thrust of 223,000 pounds. The Vanguard vehicle couldn't begin to lift 164 pounds for 300 miles.

The largest thrust reported on any U. S. rocket engine is 135,000 pounds for the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile. The Atlas uses two engines in tandem, so it has a total thrust of 270,000 pounds.

The S. Thor and Jupiter missiles have initial thrusts of 123,000 pounds.

That's where the two countries stand in the race for thrust.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mary Martin is treating audiences nightly to one of the most exciting moments in the theater.

The moment comes in the first act of "Annie Get Your Gun" when Annie Oakley makes her big debut with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. The curtains part and there is Mary riding at full gallop on a white charger while shooting targets out of the air.

Television audiences will get to see the stirring feat on Thanksgiving eve, when Mary will star in "Annie" on a two-hour spectacular on NBC.

Probably no other top star would undertake such a stunt except Mary, whose devotion to the theater knows no bounds.

An elaborate mechanism was devised to carry off the stunt. A treadmill had to be equipped with an electric motor to get it started. Wires were attached to the horse in four places to prevent its getting off the track.

But still, the device wasn't foolproof. When Mary and co-star John Raitt were posing for photos in San Francisco, the horse reared and sent the expensive talent tumbling on their—onto the stage.

Three horses and two cowboys are required for the stunt. One is used for Mary's gallop. Another carries Mary and Raitt for a walk at the finale. Another nag is required as a stand-in.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What does Joan Caulfield have in common with Robert Cummings, Eve Arden, Richard Boone, Wally Cox and Gale Storm?

If you were up on your TV history, you'd know that all six have starred in two television series. Joan is the latest member of the two-time winners' club. Once the delight of "My Favorite Husband," she is now appearing on NBC Sunday nights in "Sally."

Provided her show isn't shot down by the sharp-shooting "Maverick" on ABC, Joan should find success with "Sally." Judging from last week's program, it appears to be one of the brighter spots in an otherwise dismal season.

It had crisp writing, bright direction and sharp acting by Joan, Marion Lorne (the wonderful "Mister Peepers" show) and other accomplished actors.

"If people don't like our show, they just don't have taste," Joan says militantly. "I'm a tough audience. I've done some shows that make me cringe. But some of the 'Sally' shows have made me real proud."

"Sally" is a family affair. Producing the show is Frank Ross, Joan's husband.

Christ went so far as to drive these merchants out of the temple. He preached that people must make "living" sacrifices—sacrifices of and from themselves. He wanted the sacrifice to come from the heart and not from the pocket-book.

Man has not changed basically through the centuries. He still would like to buy his sacrifices and dramatically be acclaimed by men.

The sacrifice which is most acceptable to God is the small gift of service or of love which one gives quietly to those who are in need of comfort or of relief from suffering of body, mind or soul. Such a sacrifice is given with no thought of acclaim or reward.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★ 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' Classic Schizophrenia Case

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for SEA Service
This column is devoted to a brief discussion of the important mental disease known as schizophrenia or dementia praecox. It is responsible for almost one-quarter of all admissions to mental institutions in the United States and it generally strikes in youth rather than in older years, as do most of the other mental diseases.

A "splitting" of the personality of the afflicted person is the most characteristic feature of schizophrenia. The younger developing stages of this disease may behave fairly normal part of the time and yet act abnormal occasionally.

For a dramatic and fictionalized account—which is exaggerated of course—I would recommend the reading of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." This tells of the respected physician, Dr. Jekyll, whose personality and behavior are completely altered from time to time when he becomes the disreputable and dangerous Mr. Hyde.

SCHIZOPHRENIA is responsible for a great deal of anti-social behavior and, partly for this reason, many of those afflicted require institutional care both for their own sake and for the protection of the community.

The most prominent early symptom is likely to be a change in the outlook of the victim. Sometimes a patient will show an unusual amount of suspiciousness. Devoted friends or relatives may be unjustly suspected of persecutions.

Quite often the first signs consist of disorientation and lack of cleanliness. Judgment is often impaired. The patient frequently complains of hearing or seeing strange objects which are not there. Peculiar qualities of thinking arise. The whole personality is likely to become gradually changed.

SOMETIMES MENTAL strain or a disease seems to bring on the illness rapidly, but at other times it comes slowly without any obvious origin. Slight peculiarities and oddities often are present for some time before serious symptoms show themselves.

The cause of schizophrenia is not known. Heredity probably plays some part. It has been stated that more than half of those with schizophrenia have some family history of mental illness. There probably are other factors responsible for the development of this condition also.

Here is one of our major causes of mental illness. We need to know much more about its cause, prevention and treatment. However, the outlook may be improving as the result of shock treatment, tranquilizers and other treatment procedures.

Aviation historians credit Mrs. C. J. S. Miller as being the first U.S. woman to fly in an airplane: Aug. 11, 1906.

The first fire insurance companies were formed after the great London fire of 1666. These companies maintained their own fire-fighting organization. Policy holders were identified by metal emblems, called fire markers, attached to the outside of their property. If a burning building had no fire marker, the firemen just stood by and watched it burn. The first such company in the United States, the Philadelphia Contributorship, was founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1752.</

Town, Country Club Meets At Blakeman Home

The October meeting of the Women's Town and Country Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Blakeman at 1610 South Clay avenue in Jacksonville with Mrs. Sallie Hermes and Mrs. Francis Meier assisting.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag led by Mrs. Blakeman and the club collected led by Mrs. Delbert Fricke. The president, Mrs. Wayne Bracewell, conducted the business meeting.

Seventeen members answered roll call with payment of dues. The reports of the secretary and treasurer and the budget committee were given and approved. It was announced by the chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Luecia Shepard, that a rummage sale will be held on the first Saturday in December. The president reported on a recent board meeting that she had attended.

The song, "Shine On Harvest Moon" was sung by the group. The program chairman, Mrs. Charles Williams, introduced Miss Alta Elsch, who with her assistant, George Winston, presented an inspirational program on musical therapy for the mentally ill. Their program consisted of information concerning the work done at the Jacksonville State Hospital and several musical numbers.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in an autumn motif. The November meeting will be a Thanksgiving dinner on Tuesday, Nov. 19, at the home of Mrs. William LaKamp with Mrs. Carlton Schumacher, Mrs. Luther Brockhouse, Mrs. Delbert Fricke and Mrs. Harlan Hamilton as assistant hostesses.

EXPANDING POPULATION—What the populations of the 48 states will probably be like by 1970 is indicated on the Newsmap above. It illustrates projections made by the Bureau of the Census which are based on three factors: migration, birth rate and mortality rate. The western states are expected to lead the increase, with California eventually outstripping New York as the most populous state in the union. According to Census Bureau estimates, the total U.S. population in 1970 will be in the neighborhood of 220 million people. That only 15 million of this total will reside on farms is an important indicator of the changing make-up of our population and economy. The estimated population at present, as recently announced by the Bureau, stands at 171,790,000, an increase of over 20 million since the last official census in 1950.

Judge Hemphill Funeral Monday At Carlinville

Funeral services for former Judge Victor H. Hemphill, 75, former judge of the Seventh Judicial circuit, were held Monday afternoon in Clegg Chapel on the Blackburn College campus in Carlinville. Burial was in Carlinville city cemetery.

Judge Hemphill, who served the circuit bench 14 years, died suddenly Saturday afternoon at his home in Carlinville.

He was well known in Morgan and other counties of this circuit, having presided over court sessions from 1933 to 1947. He was state's attorney of Macoupin county eight years, from 1922 to 1928.

At the time of his death, he was president of the board of trustees of Blackburn College in Carlinville, and was a charter member of the board of directors of Carlinville Area Hospital. Two years ago he was honored at a Blackburn affair for his 50 years in the practice of law. He had been on the Blackburn board since 1920, when he became secretary and president since 1945.

Judge Hemphill was twice chieen as guest lecturer on law at Northwestern University. He was a graduate of Blackburn College in 1902, and Washington University Law School, St. Louis, Mo. He was a member of the Macoupin County, Illinois and American Bar Assns., and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. In 1915, Mr. Hemphill married Adele Loehr. Surviving are his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Henning, Aurora; a son, Robert, Carlinville; four grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Ruth Ibbotson, Carlinville.

HITLER RACE PLAN
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UP)—Adolph Hitler planned nationwide husband - sharing to repopulate Germany after World War II, says Dr. Oron J. Hale, University of Virginia professor, who told of it in an article for the Journal of Central European Affairs.

Dr. Hale, who served as U.S. Commissioner for Bavaria after the war, translated the only full copy known of a talk Hitler made to an intimate circle of assistants in 1944.

Hitler believed the success of his plan would depend upon finding acceptable terms and names for relationships of men with widows and spinsters, and the resulting children.

Dr. Hale says the plan was to be kept secret until after the war because of possible adverse effect on the morale of soldiers.

Annual 4-H Crops Show Saturday

Robert W. Hayward, Jr., assistant farm adviser, has announced that the annual 4-H crops show will be held Saturday, Oct. 26, at the Farm Bureau. All entries must be in place before judging begins at 10 a.m.

Home Bureau Activities

VERSAILLES—The local Home Bureau unit met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ray Stone. Fifteen members answered roll call with "Something Different I Did This Summer."

The major lesson was on "Storage Space The Family Needs" and was given by the home advisor, Mrs. Darlene Pennington. The minor lesson on "Taking Care Of House Plants" was presented by Mrs. Roy Saxer.

The hostesses served refreshments assisted by Mrs. A. A. Thoroman. They consisted of fruit salad, cookies and coffee.

CIRCLE MEMBERS WORK ON TOPS FOR BAZAAR NOV. 21

Ruth Circle of Centenary Methodist church met Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Stallings. Devotions were given by Mrs. Lloyd Byers. There were 14 members present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Baldwin and Mrs. Alex Jones.

The meeting was closed with members repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Modern Grandmas Retire To Simple Housekeeping

When grandmother trades her too-large home for a modern apartment, some changes in furnishings are sure to follow. Not all mature homemakers are wedded to overstuffed reminders of the past. With earlier marriages establishing the children in their own homes at a youthful age, many grandmothers are young in years and in spirit.

They are happy for the opportunity to indulge in some of the luxuries modern furnishings offer—fine fabrics, new materials that make housekeeping a breeze. Relaxing in peace in an uncluttered room for a tete-a-tete with a visiting grandchild is one of the rewards she can expect.

ENCOURAGING a take-it-easy attitude is the superlong chaise longue. Loose foam-rubber cushions, and slim, sleek lines avoid a bulky look. And the length leaves plenty of room for seating space.

One designed by Norman MacGregor balances the length of the seat with a simple tailored back. Its luxurious appearance is built up with an upholstery of Douppont which has a hand-woven texture and a silken feel.

This and similar chaises are so designed that they can be used in combination with sectional sofas, forming the end of an L-shaped arrangement.

USEFUL in many ways are handsome tables that slide over a bed or chaise. These have polished plastic tops, white frames and round brass casters. They can serve breakfast or tea in style.

Circle members worked on toys for the bazaar Nov. 21.

Special sewing meetings will be Oct. 22 at the home of Mrs. Claude Greife; Oct. 29 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Stallings; Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. William McKean and Nov. 14 at the home of Mrs. Lovora Gray.

The November meeting will be held at the church.

Indonesia issued its declaration of independence in 1945, and sovereignty was transferred by The Netherlands in 1949.

Extra-long chaise longue provides lots of lounging space without bulky look. White-framed table slides over chaise for sit-down service; casters roll easily over thick tufted wool rug.

or bear the weight of a typewriter without flexing. When not in use, they look equally at home as chair-side tables.

Another versatile design is a folding table which can double for writing tablet, serving cart or bedroom dining table, thanks to hinged top and bottom shelves.

This can be folded up for storage. skid rubberized backings are built-in safety factor for area or accent rugs.

Easy-care drapery fabrics include prints and solid colors. New waves in glass fiber. Beaded pile carpets with an eye-slides having a satin sheen, glass fiber fabrics won't burn, mildew or deteriorate in sunlight.

Girard Declines Chance To Clear Up Discrepancies

MAEBASTI, Japan (U)—G. William S. Girard today declined to testify on conflicting pretrial statements he made about the firing range death of a Japanese press collector.

Judge Yuzo Kawachi, presiding at Girard's manslaughter trial, called the Ottawa, Ill., soldier to the stand and asked him about three statements he gave Japanese prosecutors in February.

Girard said he recalled making the statements but answered, "No, sir" when asked if he wanted to say anything about them.

In one statement Girard said he fired a single shot over the heads of Japanese collecting shells on a U.S. firing range here last Jan. 30. Girard said he shot "to chase them away."

But in another statement the soldier said he fired two shots, "one into the air and one over the head of Japanese shell pickers."

Girard admits firing the empty brass casing from his rifle grenade launcher which killed Mrs. Naka Sakai. But he says it was an accident that occurred while he was carrying out guard duty.

Doctors are making tests to see if the twins can be safely separated.

Denies Syria To Hold Mediation Talks With Turkey

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, charged British Prime Minister Macmillan with trying to work out a plan of aggression against the Arabs in his conferences in Washington this week.

In Syria and Turkey there still were no signs of general alarm.

The U. S. Assembly prepared to begin debate Tuesday on the Turkish-Syrian crisis. One source at U.N. headquarters said the 82-nation body might hold morning, afternoon and night sessions in an effort to get speedy action.

Four or five resolutions for Assembly action were expected to be submitted — by the United States, Syria, the Soviet Union and others.

Syria, backed by Russia, has charged Turkey with threatening to attack her. The Syrians asked a U. N. commission to be sent to investigate the border situation.

The United States was reported anxious to have such a commission instructed also to investigate its own earlier charge that Soviet influence in Syria is what really is threatening war in the Middle East.

Toast Frogman Who Dived Into Vat Of Wine

RIVA DEL GARDA, Italy (U)—The residents of this Alpine resort today toasted a frogman who went diving in a vat of wine.

Thanks to his prowess the juice of the local grape won't run in the streets.

Riva del Garda boasts a conservative wine cellar housing 200 huge vats of 52,000-gallon capacity each. The farmers now are bringing in their new wine, which is piped down into the underground vats.

Sunday a worker went below to the corridor adjoining the vats to inspect things. He found the passage way three feet deep in new wine. He started looking around to see where it came from. Then he collapsed, overcome by the fumes from the still fermenting liquid.

Minutes later a second workman entered the corridor to find the first man. The fumes got him too.

Other workmen rescued their befuddled comrade. But the wine continued to rise in the corridor.

Somebody thought of the frogman, Tullio Cestari, 33. He put on his breathing apparatus, waded through the heavy flood and located the overflowing vat. But he couldn't see what was wrong. So he climbed to the rim and dived into the 12-foot-deep tank.

Searching around, he found dirt had clogged the valve which channeled excess wine into an outer vat. He cleaned the valve and stopped the flood.

Riva del Garda's 1957 vintage will only be 40,000 gallons less than anticipated.

NEW USE FOR SUNDAY PAPER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—The big Sunday edition of a city newspaper was more than just good reading to Norman E. Daw, 57. He said a man approached him, knife in hand, and demanded his money. Dan dealt him a stiff wallop on the head with his rolled-up newspaper and sent him running.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (U)—Stock market prices weakened further late this afternoon under successive selling waves, pushing the average down to new 1957 lows.

Volume for the day was estimated at more than 3,000,000 shares compared with 2,670,000 Friday.

Key stocks fell $1 to $4, worsening their prices in a series of sell-offs.

Wall Street analysts could not connect the decline with any single piece of news but they noted that corporate reports were spotty and there was news of layoffs and production cutbacks.

De Pont, Lukens Steel and Chesapeake & Ohio fell around $4 apiece. Illinois Central, Lockhead, Youngstown Sheet and Kennecott were down $3 or more.

Losses of around $2 or so were taken by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Dynamics, American Telephone, New York Central, American Cyanamid, Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio.

Other losers of $1 or more were Boeing, International Telephone, General Electric, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Gulf Oil and United Air Lines.

U. S. government bonds improved.

Illinois Jumps From The Frying Pan Into The Fire This Week

Left Upright Of Goal Post Plays Deciding Factor

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — A piece of 2-inch pipe weighted heavily on football enthusiasm at Washington State College today and it pitched the Rose Bowl shouting her down to conversational tones.

Quarterback Bob Newman's conversion attempt after the second fourth-period touchdown in a dramatic comeback against Oregon Saturday hit the left upright on the metal goal post and bounced back.

Thus, a 14-13 Oregon margin was preserved, the Cougars had lost the lead in the four-team race for Pasadena in the Pacific Coast Conference and a budding Rose Bowl demonstration among the 5,500 WSC students withered and died.

There were indications the student body was ready to break out in a wild exhibition of football frenzy if the Cougars won this big game between the only two eligibles undefeated in the PCC.

Now Oregon assumes the lead among the four PCC schools, who have purity and can travel to Pasadena. The Ducks meet California in a big one at Eugene next Saturday, WSC plays Southern California in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

WSC players agreed afterwards they thought California was a better team than Oregon and said they still expect to make that big trip to the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Richard Nearing The Close Of A Colorful Career

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maurice (the Rocket) Richard, who Saturday night scored his 500th goal in ice hockey's big league, is nearing the close of a career that ranks with the greatest in all sports history.

At 36, this fiery son of French-Canadian parents has achieved about every distinction possible in Canada's national pastime. Like Babe Ruth, baseball's greatest slugger, Richard has no peer as an offensive performer.

He broke the all-time record for regular season goals in his 10th season, 1932-1933. This standard set by Nels Stewart, who had 324 with the Montreal Maroons and New York Americans, also has since been surpassed by Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings. Howe had 333 going into this season.

Maurice also holds the record for goals in a season, 50, most points in a game, 8, most consecutive years 20-game scorer, 14, most "Hat Tricks" in a career, 25, most goals in a playoff series, 12, and sundry others.

Maurice joined the Montreal Club in 1942.

His present salary is in the neighborhood of $25,000 a year. The puck with which he scored his record-breaking 325th goal was sent to Queen Elizabeth of England.

When he tallied his 400th goal, the Canadian management presented him with a bonus of $2,000. And after 15 years, he was named his team's captain last September upon the retirement of Butch Bouchard.

Millikin Takes Over 1st Place In CCI Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Millikin took over undisputed possession of the College Conference of Illinois football race Saturday by defeating previously unbeaten Lake Forest, 28-14, for its fourth straight conference victory.

The victory left Millikin with a 4-0 mark while Lake Forest slipped to second place with a 3-1 record. North Central slipped to third place with a 2-2 record. North Central slipped to third place with a 2-2 record.

They skipped out of the frypan Saturday when they upset Minnesota 34-13.

This Saturday, they hit the fire against Michigan State, the badly mangled giant of the Big Ten.

The Spartans, No. 1 team in the country in last week's Associated Press poll, were trampled by the red-hot Purdue 20-13 in the biggest upset of the season so far.

"Michigan State will be really out to get us now," Elliot said today. "And to make matters worse, it's their homecoming."

The Purdue defeat could cause Michigan State to lose a Rose Bowl bid. Ohio State and Iowa, the defending champion, still are undefeated in conference play.

On the other side of the Rose Bowl, the Pacific Coast Conference, things are just as misty. Washington State could have nearly wrapped it up Saturday by beating Oregon.

But Oregon on the game 14-13 when State quarterback Bobby Newman missed the extra point after the Cougars' second touchdown.

State already had licked California and Stanford, the other Rose Bowl eligibles. But State can still make it. Everything hinges on how Oregon does against California this week and Stanford Nov. 2.

At Oklahoma, which won its 44th straight game Saturday, a 47-0 rout of Kansas, goes against Colorado this week.

In the Southeastern Conference, there doesn't seem to be a team capable of blocking Texas A&M's surge to another title, although at the moment, the Aggies are tied with Texas and Rice for the lead.

The Aggies received an unexpected lift from Texas Saturday when the Longhorns, a weak side in the loop last year, upended Arkansas 17-0. The Aggies had no easy pickings, either, escaping with a 7-0 decision over Texas Christian.

The tough Atlantic Coast Conference race could be decided this week when Duke and North Carolina State tangle. The Blue Devils, with a spotless 5-0 overall record, will be favored. They humbled Wake Forest 34-7 Saturday. Unless catastrophe strikes, Duke's path to the Orange Bowl appears clear. North Carolina State is on probation.

Maryland, until last year a power always to be reckoned with, is showing signs of coming back under Tommy Mount. The Terps lacked their record to 3-2 Saturday by upsetting North Carolina 21-7.

In the Southeastern Conference, Auburn's 3-0 triumph over Georgia Tech left only Florida as a problem of any sorts for Auburn.

Army, which licked Pitt 29-13, jumped into the lead for Eastern honors which might not be settled until the Cadets meet Navy Nov. 30.

Refuse Withdrawal
DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Two Iowa teams, Dubuque and Clinton, have been refused permission to withdraw from the eight-team Midwest Baseball League to enter any other circuit.

Refusal came Sunday at a special meeting of club presidents.

League officials also voted to open the 1938 schedule May 4 with a 126-game split season.

Kokomo, Michigan City, and Lafayette, Ind., and Paris, Mattoon and Decatur, Ill., are other members of the three-state league.

SHOOT HIS AGE
CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (AP) — Rare indeed is the golfer over 80 who shoots his age, but Fred Findlay of Charlottesville does it often.

Findlay, noted golf course designer, recently posted an 84 in a 9-hole round. He is nearing his 86th birthday and frequently plays the Farmington course which he designed.

LEARNED SOMETHING
LOUISA, Va. (AP) — Jim Kaufman is a college student and an ardent fisherman who usually knows the right lure to use. He has inside knowledge as a part-time fishing tackle salesman.

But one day Kaufman's luck ran out on the South Anna river. He caught a few bream but the big fish ignored everything. Then he saw a couple of fishermen catching the big ones.

Investigating, he found they were using clothespins of the pinch type with seltzer tablets. A hook was held in place with a rubber band. The clothespin floated and the fizzle of the tablet brought the otherwise unaccommodating big fish.

Ole Equalizer-Upset-Was Put To Full Use In Big 10 Saturday

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Ole Equalizer UPSET — was put to full use Saturday leveling the Big Ten football race to a take your choice affair.

Michigan State's Spartans, ranked No. 1 nationally, and Minnesota's fourth-ranked Gophers ran into the unexpected as Iowa's defending champions and Ohio State moved into the conference lead.

Purdue, which hadn't tasted victory in three previous games, upended Michigan State, 20-13, and Illinois mauled Minnesota, 34-13, in two of the nation's biggest upsets.

Ohio State remained undefeated in two conference games by rolling past hapless Indiana, 56-0, and Iowa — the Big Ten's only undefeated team — thrashed upended Wisconsin, 21-7. Michigan returned to the scene of competition with a 34-14 triumph over winless Northwestern.

Stamped a three-touchdown favorite, Michigan State never lived up to expectations against the underdog, injured and ailing Boilermakers. But neither injury nor flu could keep Purdue from his objective. Ross Fichtner, an 18-year-old sophomore quarterback, filling in for regular Bob Spoo who was out with a hand cut, led Purdue with the poise of a veteran.

Wait Kowalczyk put the Spartans ahead with a long punt return and three smashes into the line for a touchdown. The Boilers, makers struck back after recovering a Spartan fumble and turned it into a touchdown. Fichtner hurled a 43-yard pass which set up Purdue's second touchdown and Kenny Mikes sprinted 34 yards for another Purdue score and the victory.

While Purdue was stealing the upset thunder, Illinois fashioned a good-sized surprise for the homecoming crowd at Champaign. A two-touchdown underdog, Illinois turned the game into a rout by scoring twice in the first quarter and taking a 21-0 halftime lead over Minnesota's tarnished Gophers.

Not until the Illini had run up a 34-0 lead was Minnesota — a prime contender — able to score. Halfback Bobby Mitchell, quarterback Tom Haller and a brilliant defensive effort turned the tide for Illinois.

Michigan — despite its 20-point victory — was nearly hit by the upset bug. The Wolves grabbed a 14-0 lead over Northwestern and then slowed down. But the Wildcats ripped back for a pair of third quarter touchdowns to tie the count. It remained that way until the Wolves caught fire with three touchdowns in the final quarter to insure the triumph.

The outcome of the Illinois and Purdue victories took away the thunder from Iowa's gallant effort.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Well-known title contender Gaspar (El Indian) Ortega of Tijuana, Mexico, observed his 22nd birthday today but any celebration will have to wait until Tuesday night.

El Indian is scheduled to go into the ring at Wrigley Field against former world champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba.

PLAYERS FEEL AT HOME IN DUSK
BOSTON (AP) — Steve Sinko, coach of Boston University's football team, reports that his players liked playing in the late afternoon as they faced Massachusetts in a twilight game. The players felt more comfortable playing at a time of day normally used for practice.

SIX FOREIGN TEAMS ENTER HORSE SHOW
NEW YORK (AP) — Six foreign teams will seek the title won by the United States equestrian team at the National Horse Show opening in Madison Square Garden Nov. 5. Invading teams are from Great Britain, Mexico, Ireland, Argentina, Canada and Chile. The event marks the first time Argentina has competed in the event.

Colorado's 42-14 breeze over Kansas State was impressive enough from the 64-yard net gain total, 478 by rushing, but did you know the Buffs also lost 100 yards by penalty?

Best Quote Of The Weekend? Easy. That would have to be the one from Tommy Mont, who won only two games last year after replacing Jim Tatum at Maryland and only one of four this season before upsetting Tatum's favored North Carolina club 21-7 Saturday. Said Mont, still overcome by it all when asked who was his pick as the Maryland star: "Everyone." He answered: "Everyone."

Iowa, Ohio State Capture Lead In Western Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowa's defending champions and Ohio State's "darkhorse" Buckeyes moved front and center in the Big Ten football race after both Michigan State and Minnesota ran into weekend upsets.

The Hawkeyes rolled past Wisconsin, 21-7, and Ohio State tore into Indiana, 56-0, while Michigan State was stopped by Purdue, 20-13, and Minnesota faltered before Illinois, 34-13.

The only other Big Ten game saw Michigan score three times in the fourth quarter to down Northwestern, 34-14.

The turn of events brought about a new situation in the race for the Rose Bowl. With Iowa ineligible because of the rule against sending repeat champions, Ohio State now holds the edge.

But Michigan State, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois—all saddled with one loss—remain very much in the running.

Another chapter will unfold this week when Illinois invades Michigan State, Iowa moves in against Northwestern, Michigan goes to Minnesota and Ohio State battles at Wisconsin. Miami of Ohio is at Purdue and Villanova goes against Indiana in non-conference games.

Illinois will have to use every trick in the book to get past Michigan State Saturday. The Spartans are out for revenge for numerous reasons.

Not only did they lose to Purdue and fail to hold onto their conference lead, but it'll be homecoming at Michigan State. Still another factor against the Illini is the Spartans are out to avenge last year's 20-13 upset at the hands of Illinois at Champaign.

Minnesota could rebound against Michigan but this is the battle for the "Little Brown Jug" and no team, really has an advantage.

The winner in this contest will have to lay to rest the championship.

Iowa should skip past Northwestern, and the Ohio State-Wisconsin battle should prove which of these two teams has a right to contend. The Bucks are undefeated in conference play while Wisconsin's young Badgers put up a good fight in bowing to Iowa.

Notre Dame returns to the scene Saturday and engages Pitt at South Bend while Marquette's hungry Warriors take on Texas Christian with little hope for their first triumph of the season.

Eagles, Lions Score Upsets In NFL Play Sunday

By DON WEISS

The Associated Press
Philadelphia bounced Cleveland, Detroit stunned Baltimore—and just like that it's a jump today in the National Football League.

Five teams hold a share of first place. Everyone's been whipped at least once and what looked to be a possible pullaway from the Browns and Colts now has all the earmarks of another flip-flop donkeybrook.

Both the Eagles and Lions created the chaos Sunday by getting even with opponents they'd bowed to quietly in earlier games. The Eagles beat Cleveland 17-7 and Detroit upset Baltimore 31-27. The Colts had led 27-3 midway of the third period.

Cleveland's loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference with New York's world champion Giants, who routed Pittsburgh 35-9 in their home opener. Detroit and Baltimore shared the Western Conference leadership with San Francisco, which pulled even at 3-1 by cuffing Green Bay 24-14.

In other games, the Chicago Cards routed Washington 44-14 to tie Pittsburgh for third in the East both only a game off the co-leaders pace. Chicago's slumbering Bears finally got into the win column, capping rookie Willie Gailmore for four touchdowns in a 34-26 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

Four touchdown passes by Johnny Unitas—giving 12 for the brief season—fired Baltimore into a 27-3 lead when the reviving Lions got to work. Detroit still was down 27-0 with only nine minutes remaining but rallied behind a Bobby Layne-to-Hopalong Cassidy pass combination to pull it out with three quick touchdowns in the last 30 seconds.

Layne's 29-yard toss to Cassidy did it with 45 seconds left.

Rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgensen was the Eagles' big man as he passed for one touchdown against the previously unbeaten Browns and scored another on a sneak.

Veteran Chuck Conerly passed for 153 yards and two touchdowns for the Giants against a Pittsburgh team that never got past New York's 25-yard line.

Y. A. Tittle handed the brunt of the 49ers offense, throwing for two touchdowns and plunging for another.

Gailmore, ran for four touchdowns from within the Rams' 20. The Bears led 34-13 before two late Los Angeles touchdowns.

Football Briefs
By ED WILKS
NEW YORK (AP) — Think the days of specialists are over in college football? Well look at Auburn. The unbeaten, United Tigers have a whole bench for defense and one guy for scoring — a heretofore overlooked fullback named Billy Atkins.

In their three Southeastern Conference games this season, the Tigers have knocked off Tennessee 7-0, Kentucky 6-0 and Georgia Tech 3-0. And Atkins, tabbed "Ace" as a frosh, has scored all 16 points.

Long Time To Wait Dept. — When Yale beat Cornell 46-7 it was the Eli's first victory at Ithaca's Schoellkopf Field since 1889.

Brown's 20-7 decision over Penn was the Bruins' first against the Quakers since 1912.

Minnesota, upset by Illinois 34-13, hasn't won at Champaign in seven games since 1917.

California's 12-0 job on Southern Cal was the Bears' first shutout against the Trojans since 1941, first victory against "em since 1950.

Missouri hadn't won at Iowa State since 1949 until Saturday's 35-13 romp.

One thing about Illinois' head coach, Ray Eli — he hasn't done much with the Illini lately, but he does it at the right time. The dean of Big 10 coaches gets his boys "up" at homecoming, when all those alumni are on hand. Saturday it was the upset of fourth-ranked Minnesota. Last year the homecoming game showed a 20-13 upset of top-ranked Michigan State.

Colorado's 42-14 breeze over Kansas State was impressive enough from the 64-yard net gain total, 478 by rushing, but did you know the Buffs also lost 100 yards by penalty?

Galimore's Four TD's Enable Bears To Win First Grid Contest

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — "Willie Gailmore, give it to 'Willie Gailmore,'" cried the veteran Chicago Bears Sunday after scoring their first victory of the National Football League season, a 34-26 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams.

The shouts were for Gailmore's proudest of the game ball. "It was supposed to go to a defensive player," said Coach Paddy Driscoll, "but I guess, Willie really reserved it."

The rookie from Florida A&M certainly did. Gailmore, playing his first full game in league competition, raced for a net of 153 in 24 carries and scored four touchdowns. His four touchdowns tied a Bear individual mark set by end Harlon Hill and tied by halfback Rick Casares.

The victory was the first of the season for the Bears, defending Western Division champions, and brought about hopes that they might carry on and again finish on the top despite their three losses.

"We can go now," said owner George Halas. "The boys showed what they can really do." Gailmore, a wiry youngster of 21, didn't think his feats were too great.

"It was a long time coming," said Willie who starred for the Bears in exhibition play. "After that great exhibition season I thought I'd really roll," said Willie, "but I just couldn't get started."

It wasn't Gailmore's fault. He was hurt early in the Green Bay opener and never did get back into the lineup until a week ago when he put on a fine show in the fourth quarter only to have the Bears reel back and drop a 21-17 decision to San Francisco.

But Willie played up to expectations Sunday and the Bears feel they have a chance for the division title.

"He's a great player and a great competitor," said former Bear star Sid Luckman. "He has a tremendous change-of-pace and lots of speed. He gets hit and still goes."

"He's the closest thing I've ever seen to George McAfee. Remember how McAfee would get hit on one yard and have the other going forward, this kid does the same thing. He can go all the way and that's what counts."

Halas, hoping for the best, said "the team really rallied. We were getting phone calls and wires from all the ex-players telling us to start playing ball and we even had some of them come into camp and help out."

One of those showing up was George Gulyanics, the Bear post-war power man. Gulyanics worked out with the team and helped rectify numerous mistakes.

"It was nice of him," said Halas. "Thanks a lot buddy." Gulyanics answered: "That's okay coach. Just send me a couple of tickets to the next home game."

Gailmore admitted he still wasn't in top form but said he expected to be by next week. "A couple of times when I broke loose, I just couldn't keep going because of this groin trouble but I think I'll be in top shape by next week. At least I hope I am."

Among major schools adding new victories to their perfect records were Peoria Manual, Peoria Woodruff, Fairfield, Champaign, Jacksonville, Ottawa and Eldorado. All hold 6-0 marks.

Woodruff, which captured a 40-0 verdict from Peoria Limestone, collides this week with Peoria Manual, whose Rams downed Peoria Spaulding, 21-13.

Champaign's 21-13 triumph over Bloomington was its 20th consecutive win and Jacksonville piled up its 17th straight in rolling over Feithans of Springfield, 45-0.

Gibson City, another unstoppable outfit, continued to preserve an unbroken goal line by hammering out a 16-0 conquest of Unity of Tolono.

HOME RUN IS A BIG BLOW
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Billy Muffett turned in some fine relief pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals after he was brought up from Houston on July 30. He had a stretch of 43 2-3 innings in which he allowed no home runs. Then he gave up the biggest one of the National League season. It was an 11th-inning 400-foot drive by Milwaukee's Hank Aaron. It gave the Braves the NL pennant six days before the end of the race.

COTTON BOWL RECORD HOLDERS
DALLAS (AP) — Three coaches have brought three teams here for Cotton Bowl games. They are Dana X Bible of Texas, L. R. "Dutch" Meyer of Texas Christian and Jess Neely of Rice. Since becoming TCU athletic director, former coach Meyer has seen two more of his teams play in the Cotton Bowl.

Let The Dishwasher Do 850,000 Dishes

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

After a few autumn dinner parties, the estimate that the average housewife spends 304 hours a year washing dishes by hand seems inadequate.

The hostess who has worked her way through a counter full of china, glasses, silver, pots and pans after the guests have departed will agree.

Bending over the dishpan late at night is not the time to recall the calculation that in 25 years of marriage the average housewife will wash 850,000 dishes. This sparks some of us to linger longer over automatic dishwasher displays, to drop hints and bode up on what to expect should such a mechanical helper enter our kitchens.

A RECENT SURVEY shows that a housewife washing dishes by hand spends the equivalent of 63 eight-hour days a year at the job. A mechanical dishwasher can do the same job in the equivalent of 27 eight-hour days.

One drawback of earlier model dishwashers has been the preliminary scraping and rinsing necessary before dishes could be loaded into the baskets.

New models boast improved action to eliminate most of this.

According to manufacturers, only hardened or large pieces of waste food need to be shaken off the dishes. Water hurled at high velocity removes the remaining particles and flushes them away.

Improvements in detergents for dishwashers and in cabinet design also make new models safe for most fine china, glassware and silver.

WOLF CREEK

THE STORY: Wolf Creek is a town on a creek by the same name in the Padre Mountains. Dave Sharadin reaches it by stage which has to be left behind to get there. Dr. Lockridge patches up Eben Brower, one of the wounded passengers.

ain't the place for Sharadin. Block S ain't welcome here.

"The lady," Dave said levelly, "is not a Sharadin. Does she get the room?"

The bartender's face remained still while he considered. Dave read him as a bigger man than he had suspected; he had been trying to get this straight without inviting trouble, or without undue offense to the woman.

"There's an outside stairway—only way in or out. Walk all the way back in the hall. It's over the kitchen, so she'll not be annoyed by the racket below."

"Thanks," Dave said. "What's your name?"

"Raoul Quinn," the bartender said tightly. "I've got no chips on my shoulder, but I want no part of what's coming. These miners and farmers drifting in are my customers. I want to keep them happy."

"So far as Block S is concerned you'll have no more trouble. If Kains bothers you I'm sorry. I'm not his keeper."

DAVE waited while a dead silence greeted him, then returned to the door.

He found Sherry standing beside the rough board stairway. Bringing his fingers to her elbow he guided her up the steps.

Sherry touched him on the arm. "Come to my room when you're free. I'll want to thank you—and say good night."

Swinging away she stepped through the hallway.

The horsemen pulled down in front of the saloon. Dave recognized Kains in the lead and an old revisioner slipped along his backbone. Always a remorseless man, Kains had left added hardness settle about his mouth and in his hazel eyes. The Block S crew were quitting their saddles but Kains held his seat, a new repeater rifle clasped in one hand. Someone called to him, "Where are all the gold-panning fools?"

"Sloped out," another answered laughing. "They hear we were coming."

Kains' gaze swung to the burly man known as Ferris, whom he did not trust. A concentration of thought darkened his face. Then he realized Ferris couldn't have spread word of their coming to Wolf Creek, because he hadn't told any of his crew where they were riding until after they were on their way. He dismissed the camp's emptiness with a shrug and named Ferris to hold the horses.

"All right, boys! You know what to do," he said. "Clay, Gallo and Morgan—with me."

Kains led his picked followers into the saloon. Then Quinn's voice:

"Kains, get out! We don't want this kind of business!"

FROM down-block Dr. Lockridge was now leaving the stage barn. As he neared the Empress, Ferris stepped out in front.

"Better not go in there, Doc," Lockridge merely gave him an indolent look. "I want a drink."

A faintly amused smile hit Ferris' mouth. "Your funeral, Doc." But before Doc could enter the saloon another man ran up breathing hard. He was a man well in his fifties, white-haired and stooped.

The doctor's voice drifted from the saloon doorway. "What brings you to town, Milt? Didn't figure you'd leave Katherine this way."

Milt Prole's answer was sober. "I came for you, Doc. Kathie's dead."

There was a long hush and then the doctor spoke softly. It seemed to Dave as though personal loss had changed the fiber of his voice. "Too bad, Milt. Now you understand why I spoke frankly? There wasn't a chance, and so I warned you. Come inside to the counter, we'll try and make it somewhat easier. Kains is in there, but never mind him—not even he would shoot a doctor."

BY GAIL DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

We show here two leather coats by designer Samuel Roberts that point up fur trim. Three-quarter length coat in kidskin (left) has big notched collar on waistline.

Fur trim may be casual (raccoon) or elegant (ranch mink). Either way, the fashion itself is chic and wearable, with sleeves that may stop at bracelet length, pockets placed high, low or at the midriff.

Cost in putty green kidskin (right) has simple circle collar of ranch mink. Soft, semiraglan sleeves are cut bracelet length.

ORPHAN SQUIRRELS CANTON, Ohio (P)—The Stark County Health Department lost one of its bright spots when the mother of a family of five squirrels living outside the county building was killed by a car. But things are looking better now.

After a strenuous game of hide and seek officials using laborers rounded up the orphans and are now hand feeding them until they are old enough to venture outside.

Before being killed the mother was a frequent visitor of the health department. She would loiter on the department's porch, eat from employees' hands and run over their typewriter keys.

2 Kinds Of County Government Will Be Explained October 23

The Morgan County Farm Bureau and League of Women Voters are jointly sponsoring a public meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the circuit court room of the court house. The relative merits of the Commission and Township forms of government will be discussed by a panel of experts.

The two groups have invited Irving Howards of the Department of Government, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, and Maurice Scott of the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois to speak that evening on the advantages and disadvantages of the two systems. They both have information as to how the Commission and Township forms operate in other counties of Illinois.

Virgil Weghoff, former commissioner of Morgan county, and Kevin Burke, currently supervisor of Woodside Township, Sangamon county, will be present to answer questions and join in the discussion from the audience which will follow the short talks.

Neither the Farm Bureau nor the League has taken a stand on this issue which faces the voters of Morgan county on Nov. 5. Both groups are eager that their members and other citizens have facts and information before going to the polls.

This meeting, open to any person who wishes to attend, is for that purpose.

Three hunters returned Sunday night from Cimarron, Colo., each bring a buck or doe as trophies of their nine days stay in big game territory. One of the bucks was a 320 pounder, and another weighed 300 pounds.

The party consisted of Willard DeLong, of Franklin, tree surgeon; his brother, Elwin DeLong, Buffalo, Ill., and Malcolm Henderson, New Berlin.

"We hunted some of the time in four inches of snow," Willard DeLong said Monday while discussing their successful hunt. "We stayed in a cabin at Cimarron and went out from there each day."

DeLong said every hunter has his own particular technique when it comes to jumping up deer, but members of his party found that loosening rocks and rolling them down steep slopes was the best way to flush game.

"When the rocks were rolling down the side of the mountain, the deer would really take off," he recalled.

The hunters had their deer dressed in Colorado and brought the meat home under refrigeration.

Willard DeLong brought the antlers of his buck to Jacksonville Monday morning, and said he expects to have it mounted by a taxidermist at Springfield.

The buck had 10 points and a spread of 23 inches.

Swim classes for children ages 7-12 will again be offered at MacMurray College pool on Saturdays this fall and winter. Classes will begin Saturday, Oct. 26.

Various levels of ability will be included in this program: non-swimmers, those not able to swim at all; beginning swimming for those able to swim a little; intermediate swimmers for those who have passed their beginning requirements; and swimmers for those who have passed their intermediate requirements.

The course will be run for a period of 10 lessons. No classes will be held during Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations.

Mrs. June Bradish will be the instructor.

PARAKEET SHOWS HOMING INSTINCT

"Pretty Boy," a parakeet with a homing instinct, led two local men a merry chase Saturday at dusk after his escape from the Cody and Son Memorial Home but returned to his owner after being AWOL more than an hour.

A. G. Cody, senior partner of the firm, was treating the bird to a ride on his shoulder late Saturday afternoon and forgot the feathered creature was with him when he opened the back door of the funeral home. Out went "Pretty Boy," straight for the tree tops.

Callie and whistling were to no avail.

Mr. Cody's son, Willard, arrived 30 minutes later and as he stepped from his car the bird whistled his familiar greeting and then took off.

Willard Cody followed the bird with the usual persuasive methods but gave up when the bird took favor with a tall tree at the back of the Christian Science church on West State street.

Just before going back into the funeral home he called once more by whistle and upon being answered Cody faithfully took up stance this time at the Yording service station. One good whistle and down came the bird and the chase ended with all parties concerned in a happy mood.
